Finally, a better road your patients.

to recovery for

If you could design the perfect rehabilitation property, this would be it.

You provide the best care possible for patients when they're under your care. Now you can be confident that the same high-quality care will continue as your patients begin rehabilitation, thanks to Rapid Recovery Centers by Mainstreet Health.

It's a whole new approach to rehabilitation, designed to shorten the length of rehab, improve the healing environment and reduce readmissions, all at a lower cost.

Rapid Recovery Centers are designed around a unique patient and physician-centered process where each treatment plan is tailored to fit the individual's specific needs.

PatientGuests heal in the comfort of a private room, with amenities that feel more like a four-star hotel than a hospital. And the entire time they're surrounded by a team of physicians and nurses dedicated to their recovery.

Full engagement. Faster recovery. Better outcomes.

The quality of post-acute recovery and rehabilitation is integral to successful healing — and fewer instances of readmissions. Rapid Recovery Centers have been thoughtfully designed to help your patients recover fully and quickly.

There's power in collaboration.

When health care professionals work as a team, patients recover more quickly and completely.

That's why everything we do is both collaborative and encouraging.

It's why we use care coordination and communication software that lets the whole team connect digitally. Test results, therapy notes and information can be shared.

And we can provide your patient's rehabilitation progress in a form you can check at your convenience.

Everything here is a team effort. We meet, we share, and we find new ways to make sure the care we provide is the most effective in each individual case.

Our team keeps your patient motivated to meet their optimal recovery outcome.

It's just a better way to get better.
